Website

The Web Style Manual of the University of Jaén collects all of the general standards for the application of the institution's corporative identity in all of the different types of websites in order to give a homogeneous digital image and presence.

Related documents

- Manual de Estilos Web