

UDLAP Visiting Faculty (various fields): Call for Applications

Universidad de las Américas Puebla (UDLAP) in Mexico is seeking applications for Visiting Faculty for the Spring and Fall semesters of 2018. The call is currently open and the deadlines are the first week of November of 2017 for the Spring 2018, and the first week of May 2018 for the Fall 2018.

About UDLAP:

Universidad de las Américas Puebla is a top private university in Mexico, which offers quality study programs of academic excellence through its faculty of 300 full time professors, of which 4 out of 10 are members of the prestigious Mexican National System of Researchers. We are a leading Latin American research-intensive university, which is accredited in the USA by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools - Commission on Colleges, and awarded with 5 stars by QS. Our beautiful campus is located in the historic and magic town of Cholula, a small, safe, and picturesque town near the city of Puebla, which is one of the largest cities in Mexico.

Person Specification:

As part of our internationalization strategy, we are looking for young academics who are willing to spend one term with us teaching and doing research. We are searching for enthusiastic early career academics, including recent PhD graduates (ABD candidates may be considered as long as the degree is awarded by July 2017). We invite applicants from world-leading universities to apply, especially those who are looking to expand their teaching experience and are open to explore research opportunities. Eligible candidates shall be fluent in English (fluency in Spanish is not required, as teaching will be in English). Candidates' terminal degree should be in one of the following fields, where we are currently recruiting:

Actuarial Sciences and Statistics	Architecture and Interior Architecture
Biomedical Engineering	Business Administration & Management
Communication Sciences	Digital Animation
Finance and Accounting	French, Italian, or German Language
Information Design	Industrial Engineering
International Business Administration	International Management
Law	Marketing
Mechatronic Engineering	Nanotechnology
Nutrition Sciences	Organizational Psychology

Duties of the Post:

- To join UDLAP for a full 18-week academic term, including final exams (Spring 2018 will run from January to May, and Fall 2018 will run from August to December).
- To teach 24 Credit Hours per term at undergraduate or graduate level; or to teach 18 Credit Hours per term if research active. Priority will be given to those open to engage in joint research projects that may lead to publications.

- To be available to students for academic mentoring, where visiting scholars will be expected to advise students especially on topics such as international exchange, internships, and/or research.
- To be actively engaged in the academic life of the hosting department.

What we offer:

- An ideal academic opportunity to develop teaching skills in a research-intensive environment, which will prove valuable to applicants in their future search for a permanent position in their home countries or abroad.
- A total salary of approximately USD $4,000.00 per month (tax deductions will depend on the participant's country of origin and migratory status in Mexico).
- Please note that travel, housing, meals, and other living expenses including visa issuance costs and international health insurance must be covered by the participant.

How to apply:

To apply for one of the UDLAP Visiting Faculty positions, please submit the following:

- A Cover Letter (no more than 1 Letter/A4 page), including a short research and teaching philosophy statement, and briefly describing your motivation to apply for this position and the field to which you are applying.
- Your resume along with scanned proof of your academic degrees.
- Names of possible courses that you are qualified to teach.

Please send all questions and applications to ingrid.kirschning@udlap.mx or udla.internacional@udlap.mx no later than the first week of November 2017, if applying for the Spring 2018, or the first week of May 2, 2018, if applying for the Fall 2018.
