About: Dr. Eugenio M. Olivares Merino (Granada 1990; PhD Granada 1994) teaches Medieval and Early Modern English literature at the University of Jaén (Spain). He has published monographs on Sir Gawain and the Green Knight, Beowulf and Margaret More Roper. He is also the author of several articles, both in Spanish and international journals, on Thomas More, Chaucer, Juan L. Vives, Margaret More, Beowulf and twelfth century revenants. Dr. Olivares Merino was Visiting Scholar at the Universities of Urbana-Champaign (1992) and Yale (2003). He is member of the editorial board of several Spanish journals, and of the administration board of Moreana, the journal of the International Association of the Amici Thomae Mori. At present, he is the main researcher of the Project "Thomas More and Spain", and coordinates the Online Master in English Studies (OMiES) offered by the English Department at the University of Jaén.
