About: Dr. Yolanda Caballero Aceituno is professor at the Department of English Philology of the University of Jaén (Spain), where she completed her Phd with a thesis dissertation on Laurence Sterne's narrative. She has published several articles and book chapters on this author, eighteenth-century English literature and literary education, which comprise some of her main research interests. She has also participated in two research projects about the representation of Muslims, Jews and Spaniards in Early Modern English writings and is currently engaged in the analysis of the oppositional dimension of female literary works of the long eighteenth century.
