

HUM-922 Seminar on Hispanic Lexicography

Coordinator: María Águeda Moreno Moreno (magueda [arroba] ujaen [punto] es)

The “Seminar on Hispanic Lexicography” research group, within the studies on the Spanish lexicon in general and in dictionaries in particular, seeks to advance knowledge within the field of Humanities and Spanish culture and language, with the ultimate goal of making the research benefit society and enrich the training of future teaching professionals. This is why the principal teaching and research development lines are lexicography, the study of the language in documentary archive sources and teaching Spanish as a foreign language.

Website for the group

Website for the Seminar on Hispanic Lexicography Research Group

Research lines

- Lexicography
- Documentary sources
- Dialectology
- Teaching of Spanish to foreigners

Related services and products

- Compilation of dictionaries - Compilation of lexical corpora for linguistic description
- Quality control of the Spanish lexicon - Drafting and revision of documents, style correction
- Terminological study of sciences - Study and description of the lexicon specializing in sciences
- Research in archive texts - Editing, analysis, dating and study of ancient texts
- Specialized teaching - Imparting of training courses and linguistic guidance
- Language and tourism - Drafting of tourism-oriented teaching material

Spanish website: <https://bit.ly/2GuudWq>